Five Reasons to Get Your Tickets NOW For Fort Ross Festival via Eventbrite: <http://fortrossfestival.eventbrite.com/>

1. You'll get a real letter in the US Post with your festival bracelet. Remember USPS?
2. Feel like a VIP and skip the entrance kiosk, because you've already got your bracelet. Cool.
3. What's better, spending $12 for a full day of world music, good food, and fascinating history, or spending $20 for a full day of world music, good food, and fascinating history? (Hint: advance tickets are CHEAPER.)
4. We'd really like to know how many people are coming to festival so we can make sure to have enough piroshki. You like piroshki, don't you?
5. We work at a historical park but we're trying to move into the 21st century with social media and this online ticket thing. Don't prove us wrong.

Fort Ross Festival Scenarios

Thanks to Renova Fort Ross Foundation's generous support, the historic scenarios and spectacular period costumes will be on display at this year's Fort Ross Festival. Kate Luna, Scenarios Director, is busily preparing the actors for their weekend on stage:

"It is a pleasure to be able to leap back in with our actors in rehearsal this weekend. I look forward to being able to facilitate their diving more deeply into their characters, adding richness and nuance to the history. I want to hear from them what they experienced in performance last year and what they would like to enrich for this comeback. I will be stretching them even further now that the trust has been so profoundly established and they have last year's performances under their belts."

There are many ways to volunteer, and you don't have to come in costume. See our volunteer page for a list of the ways you can help out. We need you to sign up whether you're new at this or are one of Fort Ross' dedicated costumed craftspeople. Please join us - go to our website www.fortross.org/festivalvolunteer.htm to sign up.

See you at Fort Ross Festival!
